What on earth am I here for?
Sit around, have a good time, or, Fulfill the call God has given you,
He would not ask if His call you could not do.
If each of us will do our little bit:
Tell what God did, all your sins He did remit, So all will know Christ came to save man.
Who can get this good news to the world? We can.
Do you think you are here for your own pleasure? No.
Christ said, "Into all the world you must go ... " There are so many that have not heard; We must get to them God's word.
Ifwe can't go, then someone we must send:
A little of our time, a helping hand we can lend.
Unless we take the opportunity God gives me and you, How will those that have not heard know what to do?
The very best Heaven had, God gave.
The world is lost. Tell them "Christ came to save."
We will be held accountable on that day If we fail to show the wayward soul the way.
God gives each of us a mission.
He will show you. Open your heart and listen.
If we fail the world will die in sin.
I know, because there I once have been.
Tell your loved ones and the world Jesus cares.
He came and died; His love to all He shares.
So what on earth am I here to do?
Reach the lost, help the poor ... it's required of me and you.
