

Jesus Lord of All

Written by Philip C. Vinson
Sunday, 29 June 2008 18:49 -

Jesus You are Lord of all.

I want to be listening to the faintest whisper or call.

You will always be there if I slip or fall, Because Jesus You are Lord of all.

You created the worlds; they were created by You. If I only knew all the suffering You went through, So in truth and righteousness we must stand tall, Jesus You are Lord of all.

In many ways the gospel is sent that all might hear, You do not want us to live in sin and in fear.

Because You want all to hear Your call, Jesus You are Lord of all.

Lord You healed the sick and raised the dead, And over the church You are the head.

Lord You hear me when I call, Because Jesus You are Lord of all.

Oh that all would believe in Your Word, It must be preached until all have heard, And if everyone will heed their call,

Then one day it will be known You are Lord of all.

Those that say they know God but Jesus they teach not, Give them a new heart, then for You cast their lot, And preach the gospel and fulfill their call,

Then realize You are Lord of all.

I am going to do a quick work; and make it fast, It will be quick, though it is still a great task, And on each I will place a special call,

Yes, I am Lord of all.